

Most upstate counties with prisons agree:

A prison cell is not a residence

13 New York counties reject the Census Bureau's prison count and fairly apportion political power within the county on the basis of actual — not prison — populations.

See: Prison Policy Initiative, Phantom constituents in the Empire State: How outdated Census Bureau methodology burdens New York counties (2007) available at: <http://www.prisonersofthecensus.org/nycounties/>